SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Food Safety and Agricultural Research Center at Akdeniz University is organizing the Pichia 2016 Conference. Attendees at the Conference will learn how this extraordinary system has progressed over the last 30 years, producing an ever-expanding variety of novel proteins. Speakers and poster sessions will discuss the latest Pichia developments for post-translational modification, process development and the application of genome insights to improvements in productivity, and give you a head start for your future uses. Join us as a sponsor at the Pichia 2016 Conference in Antalya, Turkey. We expect up to 150 participants from universities, research institutes and companies all over the world, providing an excellent opportunity for participants to exchange ideas on a global basis.
